Remains of a Christmas Party

Steel girders lie twisted between concrete walls where at least 41 persons, mostly women and children, perished in a Christmas party at Tijuana, Mex., Dec. 22. The party was on the top, third floor (shown in the picture) and the only exit was downstairs to the front entrance. Eighty-eight others of the crowd of from 300 to 400 at the party were burned or injured, 32 seriously. (AP Wirephoto).

Hungarian border. The situation seems to be unparalleled in history. U. S. officials both in Washington and in Budapest moved cautiously, aware that the Hungarian move was one calculated to humiliate the United States before the world, and remembering that premature speculation in the jailing of American businessman Robert Vogeler by Hungary delayed his release from prison. A military court, acting with astonishing speed, convicted the four fliers in Budapest yesterday of violating the border with the intention of aiding spies and subversive elements. The four were fined the equivalent of $30,000 each and the plane, a C-47, was ordered confiscated.

One Miner Is Saved In Blast Tragedy

Man Taken to Hospital in Serious Condition —Pulled From 550 Feet Down

West Frankfort, Ill., Dec. 24 (A) One miner was jerked back from death today 56 hours after the nation's worst mine tragedy in 23 years claimed 119 lives. Taken from the shaft 550 feet below the surface was Cecil Sanders, 44, of Benton, Ill. He was taken to the United Mine Workers' Hospital in serious condition. Shortly after Sanders was brought to the surface, Mine Superintendent John R. Foster said: There are five men down there - no more alive. We believe that is all."

The recovery of the last of the 119 bodies on the day before Christmas added a poignant chapter to the desperate rescue efforts that have been in progress day and night since the violent explosion shattered the Orient No.

"Oh, my God, we've prayed and prayed for this," she muttered over and over. She referred repeatedly to the "miracle" of her husband's survival.

Grave concern in the blast was president, and John Forbes, director of the U. S. Bureau of Mines. The three men went below the surface with rescue workers yesterday for a brief personal inspection of the damaged sections.

Chapman ordered a dozen federal mine inspectors to open an investigation into the tragedy.

Most officials agreed the blast was touched off by the ignition of accumulated methane gas. The gas often is found in coal mines.

Omar Lingo, a county mine inspector, said he believed coal dust explosions helped spread the destruction but Foster discounted this.

Were brought to the surface, functured services were planned for others. Some were to be held to-day.

Several rescuers were overcome in the dense smoke and gas that filled the tunnels. Some were taken to the hospital for treatment. Jack Wilkerson, a rescue worker, was overcome this bringing Sander to the surface. Wilkerson, too, was hospitalized.

The Kingston Daily Freeman will not be published on Tuesday, December 25 in observance of the Christmas holiday.

CHRISTMAS MARKS WAY OF LIFE To the Western world, Christianity is a great foundation stone. On it are built many enduring religions. Rising from it, too, is the West's ennobling morality, with its exalting emphasis on individual human dignity and the brotherhood of man. When we observe Christ's birthday, we honor the Son of God and we honor a way of life that lifts man himself to a pinnacle. Christmas is always a reaffirming of faith ment. From time to time, since the advent on the world scene of the latter-day dictators-Hitler, Mussolini and Stalin—we have heard pleas for tolerance and understanding of

in our fellow men, of hope for their better-their "different" way of life. We have been told that we must view these tyrants objectively. How do we know they are not necessary agents in a vast social upheaval and will usher in a far better life for all men? How do we know they do not represent the "wave of the future?"

The men who urge upon us this kind of objectivity do not grasp the fundamentals of their own society. Our modern tyrants, worse even than their most notorious forebears, are ruthless beasts trampling human rights and crushing man's individuality.

To condone this bestiality even backhandedly, by declaring that it may lead to something better, is only a tortuous way of saying that the end justifies the means. And that is a notion utterly foreign to the Christian way of life.

This sort of "objectivity" we can never embrace. For the people of the Western world, through millions of individual judgments across the centuries since Christ's birth, have erected the edifice of Christendom. Those judgments were subjective—not objective. They represented the conclusion again and again and again that man was worth dignifying, worth elevating to a realm where he could be free to work his own destiny.

Therefore, we who follow Christian tenets are irrevocably committed to a course which eschews tyrannical oppression and the destruction of human rights in any form or degree. Our whole concept of living is rooted in the subjective decision to honor God and

There is no turning back to the "objective" study of ways which do not exalt God and man. There is only a moving forward toward fuller realization of the Christian brotherhood of men.

There is no acknowledgement that the devices of tyranny can serve even momentarily as weapons advancing man's cause. There is only endless insistence that Christian morality be our staff and guide in the grinding struggle upward to a more rewarding spiritual life for humankind.

Let our observance of Christmas in troubled 1951 tell once more of the deep faith we have in the rightness of this cause. Let it speak our denial that any other path is worth treading for even a fleeting second of human history.

HAVING MONDAY OFF

The National Association of Travel Officials is thying to promote the idea of celebrating all holidays on Monday. The fact that Labor Day comes on Monday, always giving a long week end, makes it a favorite holiday. Now that more and more businesses are closing on Saturday, a Monday makes three days off in a row. The Association would like to popularize this arrangement.

Labor Day was not established to commemorate a specific date, and that makes a difference. Perhaps some other holidays, for the general convenience, could be celebrated just as well on the nearest Monday. Other holidays, such as Christmas, are firmly fixed to a special date which is much more important than the length of a week end. These could not safely be tampered with. In any scheme to make holidays fall invariably on Monday, there would have to pens to the good ones.

'These Days' By GEORGE E. SOKOLSKY

CHRISTMAS 1951

There is an historic side to Christmas and there is a religious side.

This year, the historic side is important to us because of the similarity of the first half century of the Christian era and our own times. History does not repeat itself, but human beings often make the same mistakes and give evidence of the same Power, wealth, luxury, the desecration of the home, over-emphasis of sex, ignorance of tradition, abuse of privilege, dishonesty and corruption in public life—these debase human character, breed discontent and lead to vast political and economic convulsions. Errors of judgment can be corrected; errors of character often leave permanent marks upon the times.

And so when Christ appeared in the Mediterranean world, a rottenness was eating the heart of the most powerful empire that the world had yet known and perhaps the most interesting empire of all time. Rome was then a sick empire—physically still beautiful; morally decayed as though consumed by cancer. Men and women are essentially good and hope for gracious and decent living, but they also tend to follow the fashions set by the important and the powerful. Thus, a vile and debased Nero could, from his exalted position, set the tone of the times. Only the strongest could resist his example; only the most moral dared protest his conduct.

Yet such moral men and women existed, as they do always, and when their day came, they risked their lives to speak of the truths of lifetruths that are based on the morality which is the essence of God's law.

In his letter to the Romans, Paul, a Jew who had become the greatest Christian missionary, writes of the unspeakable ways of the Romans of his day. His description could, without change, fit the Washington of our day. And he asks:

". . . Thou therefore which teachest another, teachest thou not thyself? Thou that preachest a man should not steal, dost thou steal? Thou that sayest a man should not commit adultery, dost thou commit adultery? Thou that abhorrest idols, dost thou commit sacrilege? Thou that makest thy boast of thy law, through breaking the law dishonourest thou God? .

And having asked that, he spoke his message

"Let love be without dissimulation. Abhor that which is evil; cleave to that which is good. Be kindly affectioned one to another with brotherly love; in honour preferring one another; not slothful in business; fervent in spirit; serving the Lord; rejoicing in hope; patient in tribulation; continuing instant in prayer; distributing to the necessity of saints: given to hospitality.

"Bless them which persecute you: Bless, and curse not. Rejoice with them that do rejoice, and weep with them that weep. Be of the same mind one toward another. Mind not high things, but condescend to men of low estate. Be not wise in your own conceits. Recompense to no man evil for evil. Provide things honest in the sight of all men. If it be possible, as much as lieth in you, live peaceably with all men.

Dearly beloved, avenge not yourselves, but rather give place unto wrath: For it is written, vengeance is mine; I will repay, saith the Lord. Therefore if thine enemy hunger, feed him; if he thirst, give him drink; for in so doing thou shalt heap coals of fire on his head. Be not overcome evil, but overcome evil with good.

This is, indeed, a message for our year 1952, when so many of our own people have become restless in the climate of deceit, confusion and infamy

We are, truly, a wonderful nation. We have understood pity, compassion, charity as no other family of the human race. As we builded the mawealth of our nation, we erected out of our hearts wonderful institutions of learning, of religion, of health, of charity. We have not stinted friend or foe. We have forgiven our enemies and dealt kindly with our friends. We have lived in families and tried to form our lives in the spirit of

But we have made a detour on the road of life. It is still only a detour; it must not be built into a thoroughfare to nowhere and nothing

God beckons us to His way—and to His way we wish for all my readers a holy Christmas, joyful and happy, with God's blessing. (Copyright, 1951, King Features Syndicate, Inc.)

That Body of Yours

By JAMES W. BARTON, M.D.

LOSS OF APPETITE IN ELDERLY Because there are more old people, 60 or over, than young people, I write frequently about the treatment of the elderly and the new medical specialty-geriatrics.

Now we must remember that elderly men and women have many of the same illnesses or diseases as the young and middle-aged, but some diseases are peculiar to, or found only in, the elderly. Thus senile pruritis (itching) is a commom complaint and also skin rashes and irritations.

While most elderly men and women do not eat as much food as the young and middle-aged, nevertheless they must eat a certain amount of food to live or even exist; thus when they lose their appetite and fail to eat sufficient food to maintain their bodies, it is a serious matter.

In The Copenhagen Medical Journal, Drs. E.. Korbe and N. Vinther-Paulson state that when these elderly folk are not eating sufficient food, the symptoms of lack of nourishment are seen in inflammation of lips and tongue (cheilitis and glossitis.) This condition is found most often in old persons who live alone. "Analysis of the food deficency as compared with the food intake of active normal old persons

Clinical and laboratory examinations show that the reduction of food intake does not depend on cancer, chronic infections or intoxications. In the young particularly, infections are a factor in loss of appetite and loss of weight. In the middle-aged (40 to 60) cancer is a frequent cause of these

Study of case histories suggests that senile (elderly) debility may be due to a primary disturbance in appetite regulation and various medical psychic and sociological factors peculiar to old age, all of which tend to reduce the quantity or quality of the food eaten. I have written before of a talented man of 80 who by a misunderstanding with a close relative, lost his appetite, a serious matter at his age and condition. Time and explanations fortunately restored appetite and nor-

In the treatment of senile anorexia (loss or appetite) a search should be made for underlying causes - physical, mental and emotional disturbances — which will require patience, skill and understanding on the part of the physician.

CHRISTMAS EVE--you'll trim the Christmas tree

You'll fasten the ornaments, hang the "icicles" and sprinkle the "snow". You'll string the bells and cones and bulbs. Then — you'll pick up the electric cord, plug it in—and instantly the Christmas tree will come alive with light. The bulbs will shine and in their light the trimmings will sparkle, the snow will glisten and the star will twinkle over all.

For that thrilling moment, electric service will respond instantly and dependably, as usual. You can count on it - because you can count on your friends and neighbors, the skilled employees of this company. Many of them will be on the job Christmas eve - because electric service never takes a holiday.

You see, electricity comes from a factory that never closes. Workers must be on hand to manufacture it . . . dispatchers must see to it that electricity flows over the network of wires to your home whenever you need it, the instant you need it. Yes, skilled men and women — together with sound business management — make your electric service ... deliver it 24 hours a day ... and keep it reliable always. They put the serve in your electric

Higher Pepper Sales

Bombay, India (A) - Indian black pepper exporters hope for increasing sales to Soviet Russia, once an insignificant buyer of the spice. Russia bought 1,000 tons of Indian output in the 11 months ending October 1951, Bombay exporters declared. The United State bought 9,000 tons, followed closely by the United Kingdom with 2,000 tons. Russia is buying the pepper with rupees gained in the sale of 100,000 tons of foodgrains to India during the spring food crisis. Soviet purchases have eased a recent crisis in the Indian pepper industry, which has felt the pinch of competition from Indonesia and other countries.

The Upper Sawkill School held town was participated in by the pupils of the lower grades, and the second, A Mixed Up Christ-mas Carol, by the pupils of the upper grades. There were several songs sung by all the pupils, ac-companied by Miss Goldpaugh at the piano, and Eric Blackwell and Robert Sleight on guitars. A duet, Ah, Tannanbaum, was sung in German by pupils Linda Ritz-haupt and Irene Hugger. Piano selections were given by pupil David Bjaelker, and guest Carl Schuerzinger. At the close of the program, Santa Claus arrived bearing gifts and candy for the pupils, and all pre-school chil-dren. Refreshments were served to all by members of the Sawkill Mothers' Club.

The Lower Sawkill School held its annual Christmas entertain-ment and party at the school house Thursday afternoon. A number of plays including Safety Play, Tommy's Dream, Christmas, Cook's Play, and The Bells, were given by the entire school group. Each of the pupils spoke individual Christmas poems. At the close of the program, presents and refreshments were given to the pupils and the child guests.

In Britain this fall, newspapers told us that America's "dollar imperialism" was an issue in the political campaign. This is displeasing information to Americans who love and know America. Those of us who love her for her real strengths, her compassion and her championship of human worth, resent learning that her prestige throughout the world is at a dangerously low ebb, despite all the dollars that are flowing outward to that world.

Dollars cannot guarantee nations respect among nations any more than they can guarantee it to Hank among his fellows. If American parents are as incensed as they should be that Soviet cartoonists distort the letters U. S. into a dollar sign, they can do great service with their indignation. They can use it to train their children in independence of money, so that their children's pride in themselves does not fluctuate according to the state of their finances.

600 Attend Presentation of Handel's Messiah Last Night at Old Dutch Church

Approximately 600 persons heard the inspiring performance of George Frederick Handel's oratorio, the Messiah, last night in the Old Dutch Church by the Community Chorus, comprising 96 voices, under the direction of Donald Romme, minister of music at the church. Of the four soloists, who contributed immessurably to the success of the presentation, Allan Curtiss, bass, was the only one not a resident of this city. The others, all well known here, were Elizabeth Larsen, soprano; Madeeine Wood, alto; and John Mc-Cullough, tenor. The accompanists were Mrs. William Rylance, or-ganist, and Mrs. Elizabeth Decker,

Mr. Curtiss' work is familiar to concert and radio audiences alike. He has frequently been selected for solo work with the Robert Shaw's Collegiate Chorale group and received the plaudits of New York city critics when he appeared as soloist with that group in its presentation of Bach's Magnificat in Carnegie Hall. He directs the Texas Oil Company's chorus and has been heard as its soloist over the radio network. He is the baritone soloist at Central Presbyterian Church in New York.

Proclaims Independence

Bengasi, Libya, Dec. 24 (A)— Libya's pro-western king, Moham-med Indriss El Senussi, today pro-claimed the independence of his realm, a former Italian colony and now an impoverished nation. It is officially rated the poorest on earth but is strategically important in the western powers' de-fense plans. "Libya has become an independent and sovereign nation," said the 72-year-old desert warrior and Moslem Puritan who for 30 years fought to drive Italy out. The Italians lost the colony in 1943.

Rapp's 3414 and Joe Schrowang's 771 New All-Time City Records

Rapp's Furniture Express keglers set a new all-time city and Hudson Valley team record of 3414 and Joe Schrowang rolled 771 for a new all-time city individual series mark in a Hudson Valley League match with Elston Sports, Sunday at the Ferraro Bowlo-

In eclipsing Johnny Ferraro's old record of 769, Schrowang pounded solos of 269, 244 and 258.

Schrowang's 771 fell short of the all-time HVBL record of 789 set by George Scofield of Walden in the pre-war period.

The Rapp's shattered the old Hudson Valley League record of 3309 held by Adirondack Trailways by knocking off three consecutive "1100" totals-1103, 1131, 1180.

The 1180 and 3414 are, of . course, new HVBL records, replacing the 1086 rolled by Elstons and Cy's Diner's 3155. It was just about a standoff be-tween Otto Graham of Cleve-land's Browns and Bob Waterfield of the Rams. Between them, they had fashioned a 17-17 tie in the Then young Norman Van Brocklin took over from Waterfield. And on one great toss, gathgain of 73 yards, the Rams broke a long-standing jinx and whipped the Browns, 24-17. It was the Rams' first victory over Cleveland in five tries, and their first championship since 1945-although they have been in the playoff three years running. The Browns beat the Rams 30-28 in the playoff last year. Despite a bruising clash which left 59,475 spectators limp, the Rams still had a little leftenough to pack their 275-pound coach, Jumbo Joe Stydahar, off the field on their shoulders. Play of the Game It was a game full of highlights and tense moments. The record crowd saw passing wizoffer. But the payoff pitch was the big play of the day. Cleveland had just tied it up, and Van Brocklin any important players this time had stepped in to give the tiring Waterfield a rest. With the bail

Another of the teams that on his own 27-yard mark, the lanky quarterback dropped back. He had perfect protection as Fears raced downfield, then veered toward the sidelines.

Two Brown backs were waiting. But Fears wasn't to be denied. He went into the air, took the ball away from both defenders, and came down at full speed. The goal was still nearly 40 yards 485 away, but he made it without breaking stride

Of the crowd, which topped the 58.346 who watched the New York Giants and the Chicago Bears playoff at the Polo Grounds in 1946, 57,540 were paid. Gross receipts, including nationwide television (except for a local blackout) and radio, hit $325,-970; the net was $223,644 and the players got 70 per cent, or $156,-

This meant $2,108 to each of the Rams, $1,482 to each of the Leoce and Ferraro . . . Two Bowling Greats: A recent "700" series by Nifty Nick Leoce was reported to be his 25th in 13-years of bowling. Only Johnny Ferraro of Kingston has a record to exceed the one claimed by the Newburgh bantam. Nick has hit three "700" triples this season and 11 since the 1949-50 season. A year ago Leoce smashed the Newburgh and Hudson Valley records with a tremendous 772. Johnny Ferraro's best league mark was 769, although he powdered "300" and 798 in an exhibition match with Schenectady during the 1947-48 season. Ferraro has nearly fifty "700" triples and three scores of "300," one in ABC sanctioned play and two in open competition, plus a 299 and a couple of 298s. Leoce has never been able to roll a "300". He recalls that his best solo was a 290 rolled in open play.

Flotsam and Jetsam:

Basketball volume in the city, aside from the grade school and high school programs, is the heaviest in recent years. Lou Schafer's 'Old Timers' basketball doubleheader and re-union on Dec. 28 a sure fire SRO attraction. . . . Dick Shewchuk, Port Jervis' All-DUSO back, reported getting nibbles from Lehigh, where Bill Kitsos is 1952 captain, and the Army, no less. . . . Thomas J. Miles of Kingston was awarded a junior varsity football "U" at Union College. Thelma Garon was the winner of the recent No-Can-Do League bowling award. Ad Jones' New York State tournament committee readying a big publicity and promotional drive for local bowlers after the holidays. John Benjamin Carter, former Catskill High athlete, is one of the football mainstays and top all-round athlete at Howard University. The Orange-Sullivan Basketball League which made a couple of abortive attempts to field a franchise here has passed a non-resident rule that will bar itinerant pros like Walt Shiel and Jackie Stein who made the Woodridge Atoms untouchable since the formation of the Most nimrods brag about the size of their bags but William M. Coombs of Napanoch established another kind of record during the recent hunting season. Signs of the Times: Jack Hurley was asked what he thought of Harry Matthews' showing against Danny Nardico in their recent Cleveland bout. "Although Matthews won, he looked bad," conceded Manager Hurley. "He was hit more than he's been hit in years. "I picked up some Chicago papers after the fight, and they were full of letters about what a lousy fighter, Matthews was. Letters from fans who saw it on television. "How do you like that? They see it for nothing on television, and they write in complaining about the show!"

Man, Heroin Seized New York, Dec. 24 (A)-Narcotics squad police yesterday seized a New Yorker with $200,-000 worth of raw heroin in his possession, authorities said. The man, identified as Angelo Rocco, 28, was arrested upon his arrival at La Guardia Field on a Trans-Canada plane from Montreal. Police said they believed he was a member of a ring supplying Canadian drug addicts, but that on his latest trip he had been unable to dispose of the heroin. Rocco was booked for illegal possession of narcotics and held in $25,000 bail. Local and federal agents said his
